

Communication for academic purposes (16E105X)

Qualification (class group): Diploma in Information Technology–DPIT20(B1)

Lecturer: Mrs. BN Mahlangu

Date of submission: TBA

Group Joint Assignment

Food Security Through Garden Projects

Group Members

T.M MOTEBEJANE (241694518)

T.L KUFA (250435584)

M.M LETSOALO (250549105)

S.O MAGAGULA (242077903)

D.S SOUNDA (250530943)

T.O LEKGOARA (240602385)

S.T MABULA (242369580)

S.L BUTHELEZI (251384193)

C.S MANHICA (242537696)

A.N MAJOLA-250358318

Table of Contents

Group Joint Assignment	1
Food Security Through Garden Projects	1
Table of Contents	2
Topic Definition	3
What is Food security?	3
Why is it important?	3
Who does it affect most?	3
How does it affect everyone?	3
Task Definition	4
What is the project about?	4
Why is it important?	4
Who is the project benefiting?	4
Where will the project be conducted?	4
How will the project benefit the community?	4
Aim	5
What are the projects' main objectives?	5
How will the project achieve these objectives?	5
Research Findings	6
Discussion and analysis	7
Summary of what food security is.	7
What are the Factors affecting food security?	7
Who does lack of food security affect most?	7
Food security in local communities.	7
How can garden projects improve food security?	7
What is needed to grow a healthy garden?	7
Problem	8
Recommended Solutions	9
Conclusion	10
Bibliography	11
Reference List	12

Topic Definition

What is Food security?

Why is it important?

Who does it affect most?

How does it affect everyone?

Task Definition

What is the project about?

Why is it important?

Who is the project benefiting?

Where will the project be conducted?

How will the project benefit the community?

Aim

What are the projects' main objectives?

How will the project achieve these objectives?

Research Findings

Discussion and analysis

Summary of what food security is.

What are the Factors affecting food security?

Who does lack of food security affect most?

Food security in local communities.

How can garden projects improve food security?

What is needed to grow a healthy garden?

Problem

Recommended Solutions

Conclusion

Bibliography

Reference List